Conductorless Train

ATTENTION!!

If you took the “conductorless train (the one-car train or two-car train)”, please be careful and remember you will be always getting off at the front side of the door (side of the direction of travel) at the first-car of the train. (Also the same, even if you took the two-car train). We recommend you to stay in the first-car of the train for just in case.

This is because; sometimes the back side of the door won't open for the customer.

One Point Advice

Returning to YUFUIN STATION!!

~How to take the train at an unmanned station~ (For anyone who do not have the JR Kyushu Rail Pass)

When you travel around Japan, sometimes you will experience the situation that there is no station staff at the local station. If you in that situation you may think “how to get the train ticket and what should I do?”

We would like to express you here the way, how you manage this situation and hope you enjoy and be the professional traveler in Japan.

Yunohira station is an unmanned station on the JR Kyudai line. There are no staff in this station and no ticket vending machine. In this case, you have to get the numbered ticket inside the train. At first, Please walk through the station and wait for the train at the 2nd home (direction to YUFUIN).

There are two different way to get the numbered ticket

- ① Get the ticket from the ticket machine inside the train.
- ② If there are train staffs walking around inside the train, then please ask him or her to get the numbered ticket. They will distribute you the numbered ticket inside the train.

2: When train arrived at the home, please get on and you can see the “red box” near the door (circled on the picture). Please take the numbered ticket and keep it until you arrive at the destination.

At the YUFUIN station

3: Please pass the numbered ticket with the amount of the fare (270 yen) to the station staff.

If there is more than 2 train staff in the train, (one is driver and the other one for distributing the numbered ticket).

Please ask to the train staff that is not driving the train. And if you have problem with the Japanese, please show this message to the train staff (the one who is walking around the train).
